

A CAROL FOR SAMHAIN

TTBB A CAPPELLA

text from *The Bardic Sourcebook

DAVID E. POOLE

with awe ♩ = 60

Tenor 1

Tenor 2

Baritone

Bass

5

9

Take the new fire! Send the Rain! Ban-ish

Sam-hain! Sam-hain! Sam-hain!

Sam-hain! Sam-hain! Sam-hain! Sam-hain! Sam-hain! Sam-hain!

care! Ban-ish pain!

Samhain! Samhain! Samhain! Sam-hain!

Speed the ghosts who ban the sheep,

Still celebrated in enclaves of the British Isles and elsewhere, Samhain (pronounced sow-en) is the ancient Druidic festival of the New Year, traditionally celebrated on or about November 1.

*pp. 353-4 of The Bardic Sourcebook: Inspirational Legacy and Teachings of the Ancient Celts, John Matthews, editor. London: Blandford Press, 1998. To the best knowledge of the publisher, this poem is without copyright.

copyright ©2005 by David E. Poole

2
12

T 1 mf

T 2 Sam - hain! Sam - hain! Sam - hain! ___ This our fire to p

B > Sam - hain! Sam - hain! Sam - hain! Sam - hain! ___ Sam-hain! ___ mf

B Light the path to spi - rit sleep! This our fire to 15 poco ten.

T 1 light the way This eve. ___ poco ten.

T 2 Sam - hain! ___ Sam - hain! Sam - hain! ___ to light This poco ten.

B mp to light the way This eve. ___ poco ten.

B light the way This eve. ___ poco ten.

18 a tempo rit. pp

T 1 a tempo rit. pp

T 2 eve. ___ a tempo rit. pp

B a tempo rit. pp

B a tempo decr. rit.

Sam - hain! Sam - hain! ___ Sam-hain! Sam - hain! ___ Sam-hain! Sam-hain!